Add support for RemoveEmptyTableColumns clear option New

Hi,

Similar to RemoveEmptyTableRows that is already baked in, or RemoveEmptyTable which I understand is about to be released, it would be great if there was a RemoveEmptyTableColumns feature too.

This could potentially become handy in a scenario where users hide irrelevant columns on the front end, then initiates a download.
If i am not mistaken, as long as there is a template with static columns defined, those columns will be rendered even if no data was mapped, ending up with horizontal space lost to empty columns...

Dan
