- Forum name: #GemBox.Document Feature Request

Hi,
I have two Table of Contents in the document. And I have two book marks, and each book marks separates one table of Contents with another.
In coding section I have two section. In first section First block object contains Table of Entries, and after that it is book mark start and then paragraphs. Each paragraph has proper heading styles. And in last the book mark end objects is there inside the section. The same I have in another section. The problem is after updating the Table of entries object the second section entries are getting displayed in first table of entries and same is repeated for second table of entries. Please provide me the solutions for this problem.
